Gary Banks' Story

“I got into carpentry from a really young age. Me and my dad used to build little wooden boats and put them in the bath, I knew from then my path for my life would be carpenter and joiner.”

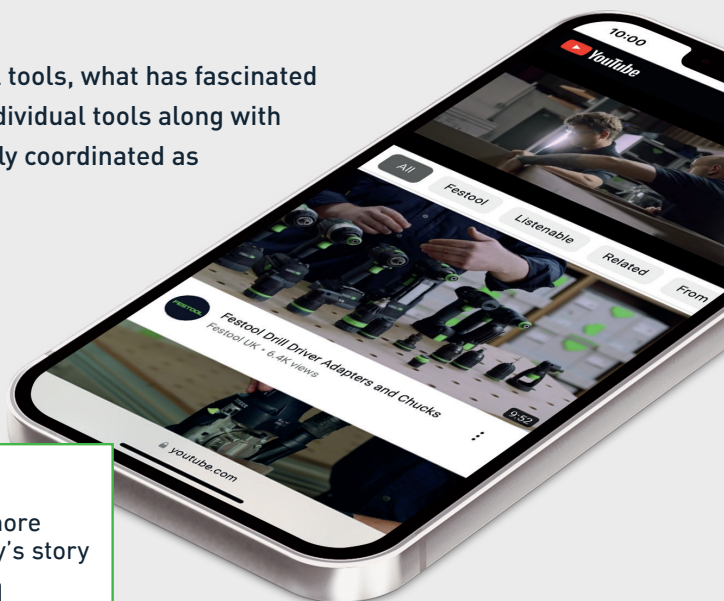

Gary Banks has been in the woodworking industry for 20 years and has worked in every type of carpentry and joinery job. Today Gary is the proud owner of Banks Carpentry & Joinery business, creating and fitting bespoke furniture.

Each project Banks Carpentry & Joinery take on is unique, with its own personality, being carefully thought out from start to finish. Gary takes pride in being there for each project, every step of the way, with the help & support of Festool.

When you see Gary's workshop you understand why Festool is more than just a tool brand; it's a way of life. So, what's in Gary's joinery workshop?

"I get excited about Festool tools, what has fascinated me the most is that the individual tools along with everything else, is perfectly coordinated as part of one system."
